3. Evaluations. On Thursday, 22 March, and Stoff mot to discuss and of the A & E Staff met to discuss once again possible means for evaluating the Basic Management and Basic Supervision courses. The outcome of the discussion was agreement to try to develop an attitude measurement device; for this and agreement device; for this purpose, selected group discussions will be taped in Basic Management #23, 26 March - 6 April. This represents a considerable departure from the established mention in the three departments are department in the established practice in the Management Course, of providing unrecorded and relatively uninhibited conditions for discussion of management problems.
We recognize the risk to the program in taping discussions, but we have agreed to undertake it in the interest of research. At best, considerable message and live in the interior of research. At Dest, considerable research will be required, since no generally accepted tools are available for the evaluation of management and supervisory training.
